II. Basis for Jurisdiction

Federal courts are courts of limited jurisdiction (limited power). Generally, only two types of cases can be heard in federal court: cases involving a federal question and cases involving diversity of citizenship of the parties. Under 28 U.S.C. § 1331, a case arising under the United States Constitution or federal laws or treaties is a federal question case. Under 28 U.S.C. § 1332, a case in which a citizen of one State sues a citizen of another State or nation and the amount at stake is more than $75,000 is a diversity of citizenship case. In a diversity of citizenship case, no defendant may be a citizen of the same State as any plaintiff.

What is the basis for federal court jurisdiction? (check all that apply)

Message to the Office of Civil Liberties, Privacy and Transparencies— + Judge

I want to say this first before I get the response "you waited too long to file your lawsuit". On November 30th, 2017- the mind control technologies started off by asking me every question they could possibly ask as if it was some kind of interrogation. The psychotronic weapons started around February of 2021. The mind weapons started in 2017 and the body weapons started in 2021. The reason I did not follow through with my lawsuit back in 2017 which I had planned is because they kept bouncing voices into my skull saying they were going to kill me. Since the psychotronic weapons started...they have threatened my life multiple times via telepathy. If I have to live with this the rest of my life— I will be getting some sort of compensation. I'm allowed to know everything regarding mind control and non lethal weapons— especially if they are using them on me! I have been threatened by these people at least 5 times minimum since 2017. They are currently using weapons on me right now just for saying that and for typing this message. They have a way of deterring someone from doing things they don't want them to do— like filing this lawsuit finally.

Some of the symptoms include making my face or anywhere on my body itch feeling like a bug had landed on me. They can send electrical shocks throughout my body, brain zaps (OW!), they can put sharp pains into my heart, my lungs, and other parts of my body. Forced memory blanks, forced speech, muscle quaking, hot needle like sensations that are pretty painful (obviously), thought control, putting a smoke like smell directly in front of me (not sure how they do that), they can make my throat scratchy which makes a person cough, money manipulation, emotion cloning, etc. There are so many symptoms of these technologies and as you may already know... at least 75% of all the criminals in this world are either from drugs they put people on... while they sit there in the shadows making trillions of dollars over time— also from MKUltrass organized criminals in which they are programmed for different purposes— altering people's thoughts and consciousness— completely changing the person they were born to be. Monarch Mind Control is another programming, That would be more for law enforcement and military mind control.

Think of our system like a triangle— you have the 'Global Networks' at the top of the triangle while keeping everything from law enforcement and many other enforcement agencies. They have made trillions of dollars alone throughout the history of the drug war. (While putting people on the drugs they engineered)

If I wouldn't have known about all of these technologies— I would have killed myself when they tried inducing suicide tendencies (don't worry, If I wouldn't have known that I was under this control... They can clone your emotions, moods, you name it. Lately they have been trying to make me angry by putting a permanent ringing of different pitch levels that I have no choice but to listen to. If I don't listen to their control— they start using their weapons on me even more. I think the people in the shadows forget that the law of karma works on every human— no matter what power or money level you are at— for both good actions and bad actions. Power, control and money go straight to some of these peoples' heads as if they may feel as if they are 'god-like'...but in reality they are VERY satan-like and very powerless. They traffic women, children, drugs, weapons and many other things as a day to day operation or the 'illicit trades'. (AKA Dark Alliances and Black Operations)

They have put so many people through a living hell including myself. I have already been through enough throughout my life...from being molested for 12 years starting at 5 or 6, traumatized at age 6 waking up next to my sister who had passed away, catching HIV when I first started using one of their famous drugs 'crystal meth'. 3 police misconduct cases, 4 unlawful terminations, 8 years on and off drugs in which THEY engineered.. Being almost killed 3 times throughout my past. I could also technically sue the Government for being one of their millions and millions of drug victims.. but what bothers me mostly would be these non lethal weapons from the time I wake up until the minute I go to sleep.

To conclude— I am suing in the amount of $450M (200M less than what I originally planned on suing for) – I plan on walking away with $350M. 100M will go to the district courts and judges to split amongst themselves— including my lawyer if I need one. Someone tried suing the Government for $650M for the same things but he did not have much evidence to prove his case, as I do. There is not a doubt in my mind that this case will be a fast win. I also plan on starting my own project which entails a very long well needed road trip around the entire country delivering approx $3,000 to many of our homeless families around the country. A chance for them to start over and revive themselves— get back on their feet, back to work and normal living. We will call this one.... 'Project Homeless'

Evidence that will be brought into court— CIA logs back to 1990, DARPA, CIA Documents, MKUltra files and all of subprojects, CIAs document 'Bloodlines of Illuminati', Eyes Wide Open by Fiona Barnett, Mind Weapon pdf document, Synthetic Telepathy, Mind Wars, Radio ID Frequency Tags Implanted in humans, brain implants, tactics and methods used to control people, Church of Scientology records, a document stating that the Government accidentally releases 'psychotronic weapons' and some of the symptoms it has on the body, voice to skull devices or "voice of god" weapons, satellite mind control, nanotechnology, bioagents, biotechnology, biological warfare, spiritual and psychological warfare, brainwashing tactics, brainwashing the masses, remote viewing, directed energy weapons, electromagnetic weapons, you name it.

I do however, promise under oath that all of the evidence I hold ....upon winning my case... will be deleted from my phone, my computer as well as all of the evidence I bring in to defend my case. I appreciate you for taking the time to read this as I'm sure there have been plenty of lawsuits regarding non lethal weapons since they became a thing...some lawsuits have lost and some have won— most hidden from the public which is fine. I am willing to keep this lawsuit quiet as long as I get the full compensation that I have asked for. I have the evidence— they have the proof. Plus, I'm sure the Government in the district courts would like some compensation too for all the lies that have been told throughout history.

Again— I appreciate you again for taking the time to read this complaint/pre lawsuit letter— I hope to hear from you very soon so I can get this lawsuit rolling. Have a great day!
Sincerely,
Bradley Joseph Corwin

PS- Somebody even edited my UFO videos I took on my phone! They tried editing this message as well as other messages I have sent in the past to our Government. I had to go into developer settings to trick them and turn off my network logs because they will do anything they can in their power to try and discredit a person.

Project MK-ULTRA, or MKULTRA, was the code name for a covert CIA mind-control and chemical interrogation research program, run by the Office of Scientific Intelligence. This official U.S. government program began in the early 1950s, continuing at least through the late 1960s, and it supposedly used United States citizens as unwitting test subjects.<sup>[1][2]</sup> The published evidence indicates that Project MK-ULTRA involved the surreptitious use of many types of drugs, as well as other methods, to manipulate individual mental states and to alter brain function.

Project MK-ULTRA was first brought to wide public attention in 1975 by the U.S. Congress, through investigations by the Church Committee, and by a presidential commission known as the Rockefeller Commission. Investigative efforts were hampered by the fact that CIA Director Richard Helms ordered all MK-ULTRA files destroyed in 1973; the Church Committee and Rockefeller Commission investigations relied on the sworn testimony of direct participants and on the relatively small number of documents that survived Helms' destruction order.<sup>[4]</sup>

Although the CIA insists that MK-ULTRA-type experiments have been abandoned, 14-year CIA veteran Victor Marchetti has stated in various interviews that the CIA routinely conducts disinformation campaigns and that CIA mind control research continued. In a 1977 interview, Marchetti specifically called the CIA claim that MK-ULTRA was abandoned a "cover story."<sup>[5][6]</sup>

On the Senate floor in 1977, Senator Ted Kennedy said:

The Deputy Director of the CIA revealed that over thirty universities and institutions were involved in an "extensive testing and experimentation" program which included covert drug tests on unwitting citizens "at all social levels, high and low, native Americans and foreign." Several of these tests involved the administration of LSD to "unwitting subjects in social situations." At least one death, that of Dr. Frank Olson, resulted from these activities. The Agency itself acknowledged that these tests made little scientific sense. The agents doing the monitoring were not qualified scientific observers.<sup>[7]</sup>

To this day most specific information regarding Project MKULTRA remains highly classified.<sup>[8]</sup>

CITY Washington, D.C. SUBJECT MK-ULTRA/Mind Control Experiments ED BRADLEY: MK-ULTRA is not the name of a new James Bond movie. It is, or was the code word for a secret CIA project which took place between 1953 and 1964 in which unsuspecting people were used in mind-control experiments that left them emotionally crippled for life. MK-ULTRA consisted of more than 130 research programs which took place in prisons, hospitals and universities all over the United States. Tonight we'll look at subproject number 66, an experiment conducted in Canada. The CIA does not deny that the experiments took place. In fact, we'll show you an internal agency memo which admits their involvement. The rationale for all of this? Well, the memo doesn't say. But it's apparent that learning how to make people do things they normally wouldn't do by controlling their minds is valuable if you're in the espionage business. Dr. Ewen Cameron, an American, now dead, headed the Allen Memorial Institute at the McGill University in Montreal, Canada, where the experiments took place. Dr. Cameron never told his patients they were being used as guinea pigs. ZAL ORLICO: I can't get over the rage that I feel that he would have done this to me and to other people [unintelligible]. BRADLEY: In 1957 Zal Orlico (7) was suffering from depression. It was recommended that she see Dr. Cameron, who was one of the leading psychiatrists in Canada. Her treatment from Dr. Cameron? Massive doses of lysergic acid diethylamide, a new experimental mind-altering drug called LSD. It destroyed her Materials supplied Approved For Release 2010/01/08: CIA-RDP88-01070R000301530003-5 'd or exhibited. Approved For Release 2010/01/08: CIA-RDP88-01070R000301530003-5 ORLICO: They took away the remaining years of my life. They really wrung them out and left me with a piece of rag to live. And that's not good enough. That's just not good enough. And it's not good enough for anybody else. And as long as I can open my mouth, as long as I can fight, I'm going to fight. BRADLEY: Mrs. Orlico decided to fight when she read a newspaper report about the CIA funding of the mind-control experiments and suspected that she was one of the victims. Her husband, David Orlico, a Member of Canada's Parliament, was able to help her find eight other people who had been used as guinea pigs by Dr. Cameron when he was receiving funds through a front organization from the CIA. After obtaining their medical records, which confirmed their involvement, they joined in a suit against the U.S. Government, each asking for a million dollars. Each of the plaintiffs came here to the Allen Memorial Institute in Montreal expecting therapy. Instead, what they got was a nightmare of experiments. There were electroshock treatments, many times greater than the norm. They were subjected to sleep therapy, long periods, often up to 60 days, during which they were drugged so much that the better part of each day was spent sleeping. During these periods, they were subjected to what's called psychic driving, the constant repetition of tape-recorded messages, often up to a half-million times. They were also injected with drugs: curare, which brought on temporary paralysis; and LSD, which led to terrifying hallucinations. ORLICO: He injected the lysergic acid into the vein, then he patted me on the shoulder and said, "Now, there, Lassie, we'll see you later." And he went out and closed the door. Well, it was only a very few minutes before I began to feel very peculiar and things began to become very distorted. And I didn't seem to have any control over anything, and I started to feel very frightened, and the light became a terror, and I sort of began throwing myself from one side of the room to the other. I didn't know what to do to stop this feeling. It felt like my bones were melting. I just didn't know who I was anymore. BRADLEY: Robert Logey (7) was 18 years old when he came to the Allen Memorial Institute with severe leg pains that had Approved For Release 2010/01/08: CIA-RDP88-01070R000301530003-5 Approved For Release 2010/01/08: CIA-RDP88-01070R000301530003-5 been diagnosed as psychosomatic, or caused by emotional problems. He got the full battery of treatment: sleep therapy, electroshock, many times the norm, psychic driving, and LSD. All of that has left permanent mental scars. And what haunts Logey the most is the psychic driving, those messages drilled into his brain when he was virtually paralyzed with drugs. ROBERT LOGEY: I have a lot of questions about it now, and why can't I know what was on the tapes? And it just haunts me and haunts me. You know, what were they trying to make me believe, or whatever? BRADLEY: Dr. Mary Morrow (7) was a physician who came to Dr. Cameron to ask for a fellowship in psychiatry. She had gone through a period of depression. And Dr. Cameron told her she looked tired and nervous, and he would not consider her for a fellowship unless she underwent sleep therapy. She thought that meant a period of rest with sedatives administered periodically. So she consented. What she got was electroshock depatterning. DR. MARY MORROW: He used 67 times the average dose of electric current by pushing the button of the electroshock machine six times in succession rather than one. And besides that, instead of getting it two or three times a week once, one press of a button, like most physicians do, he gave it in daily successions. BRADLEY: The result? Dr. Morrow lost her identity. DR. MORROW: I was suspended in space in a deep black hole. I had no idea that I was a human being. I was without knowledge of my appendages. I had no sense of solidity. I was floating. I had no -- I was completely disoriented. I thought I was an organism. BRADLEY: Dr. Morrow's mother saw what was happening to her daughter and demanded that she be released from the Allen Institute. When she regained what she calls her human identity, Dr. Morrow realized that her treatment had nothing to do with healing. In fact, she had suffered permanent brain damage. DR. MORROW: [Unintelligible], absolutely gone. [Confusion of voices] DR. MORROW: In a nutshell, my life today is in a [unintelligible] shadow. I'm left with a permanent difficulty which is called [unintelligible] -- that is, [unintelligible]. I could talk to you and -- you know, somewhere [unintelligible]. If I meet you tomorrow in a changed environment, I don't know you're Mr. Bradley. If I meet you in [unintelligible], in a [unintelligible] Approved For Release 2010/01/08: CIA-RDP88-01070R000301530003-5 Approved For Release 2010/01/08: CIA-RDP88-01070R000301530003-5 local supermarket or on the street, I won't know you from Adam. BRADLEY: Dr. Ellick Emanuel (7) was a junior associate under Dr. Cameron. Although he was not part of the brainwashing experiments, he defends Dr. Cameron and raises questions about his patients. DR. ELLIOT EMANUEL: There you have to bear in mind that these were mentally ill patients. I insist on that. They weren't there because they -- for any other reason, to my knowledge. They were mentally ill patients, and their perception or their recall 30 years later of the events may not be perfect. BRADLEY: Memories may not be perfect after 30 years, but there is no doubt about the experiments conducted by Dr. Cameron and funded by the CIA. This internal agency memo from the CIA's General Counsel refers to the substantial funds flowing from this agency to McGill in support of the project, and it goes on to say that the use of drugs, and particularly intensive electroshock, suggests that long-term after-effects may have been involved. Are you not at all disturbed about what he did in using human beings? DR. EMANUEL: In the context of the time, medical treatments, innovative medical treatments inevitably have the aspect of being experiments. There's nothing so terrible about that. BRADLEY: But there's a question of misuse. And there are people who are claiming that they were misused. DR. EMANUEL: I think it's going to be very hard for those patients to prove that their present condition was due to experimentation beyond what would be acceptable treatment at the time. BRADLEY: Dr. Harvey Weinstein, a psychiatrist and professor at Stanford University, spent years researching what happened to Cameron's patients at the hospital during the time of the CIA-funded experiments. Why? His father had entered Dr. Cameron's care with a mild neurotic condition, and came out several years later with physical brain damage and a complete change of personality. DR. HARVEY WEINSTEIN: What Dr. Cameron seemed to do was to take these and to use them not only on people who were severely ill -- and he did do that -- but to use it on people who were mildly ill, people with neurotic conditions, people for whom these kinds of treatments simply were not indicated at all. Approved For Release 2010/01/08: CIA-RDP88-01070R000301530003-5 Approved For Release 2010/01/08: CIA-RDP88-01070R000301530003-5 2010/01/08: CIA-RDP88-01070R000301530003-5 And when someone says to me that what was being done there was the standard of the time, I balk, because it was not the standard of the time. No one anywhere was putting them together in this kind of package. BRADLEY: But they were sick, many of these people. DR. WEINSTEIN: The fact that some people were neurotic -- that is, did not have conditions that were a major disturbance -- does not mean that they weren't people who were rational or capable of thinking and remembering, until this work was done. BRADLEY: From 1957 to 1960, Richard Helms and his associate Sidney Gottlieb were responsible for the CIA's MK-ULTRA. In 1973, just before he left as head of the agency, Helms and Gottlieb, in clear violation of government regulations, set out to destroy all of the records of MK-ULTRA. But they over-looked a few financial documents which showed that the CIA, through a front organization, had spent at least $60,000 on the brainwashing experiments. And because of the destroyed records, no one can say how much more was spent. Both men declined our request for an interview. A Senate subcommittee investigation into the CIA brainwashing experiments led to a recommendation that the CIA find and compensate the victims, a recommendation that was accepted by then-CIA Director Stansfield Turner. But to this date, none of the victims in this case have received compensation, or even an explanation of what happened. Joseph Rauh is the lawyer for the Canadian plaintiffs. JOSEPH RAUH: You know, it's wonderful thing that the CIA says. They say, "Well, we only put up part of the money." But can you imagine saying, "I only gave half the money for shooting somebody? Well, you know how long it would take to make that defense ridiculous. That is exactly the defense that the CIA has. BRADLEY: Rauh says his evidence tying the CIA to the brainwashing experiments will help his clients only in a court of law. And he says the agency has effectively stalled their day in court. RAUH: They'd never put up anything or give you any material voluntarily. You've got to go to the judge, and then they've always got rights to appeal. They're masters at stone-walling. BRADLEY: Canadian officials have stated publicly that Approved For Release 2010/01/08: CIA-RDP88-01070R000301530003-5 Approved For Release 2010/01/08: CIA-RDP88-01070R000301530003-5 the United States Government has expressed its regret over the CIA's actions in this matter. However, none of those Canadian officials would talk with us on camera about this case. And what's more, they have turned down all requests, even from Members of Parliament, to make public the records of that apology, records that would help the nine Canadian plaintiffs in their suit against the CIA. These officials say that international practice and customs precludes the disclosure of information that was given in confidence. The plaintiffs in this suit against the CIA were permanently damaged by the brainwashing experiments. Most of them were even unable to talk with us. You have met the most fortunate among the nine. After decades of trying, Dr. Morrow, at the age of 60, was finally able to gain her psychiatric credentials. She works at a small hospital in Ontario. BRADLEY: How has what happened to you under Dr. Cameron affected your life? BRADLEY: Why? DR. MORROW: Absolutely. [Unintelligible]. I'm 61 (7) and I've been 24 years on this case. My life is misery [unintelligible]. BRADLEY: When Robert Logey finally had an opportunity to examine his medical records, he learned that after the electroshocks, LSD and psychic driving, doctors decided his leg pain was not psychosomatic at all. A few shots of cortisone ended the pain in his leg. LOGEY: Physically, there's places you can go and have counseling and support groups, and whatnot. But when you're mentally raped, there's nothing. And I don't trust any psychiatrist who might be able to help me. I couldn't trust one enough to get the help that I need in dealing with this. BRADLEY: Mrs. Orlico suffers from flashbacks, from depression, fear of crowds and fear of heights. Finally knowing what really ruined her health, she can't sleep. Until you found out about the experiments, until you found out that you were brainwashed, what did you think of all of that that happened? ORLICO: I thought I had failed. I thought I had failed Approved For Release 2010/01/08: CIA-RDP88-01070R000301530003-5 4 Approved For Release 2010/01/08: CIA-RDP88-01070R000301530003-5 and I am guilty of being like this because I fled at something I shouldn't have fled at, and David and Lassie have to put up with me, and I am guilty. Well, when I read about it in the paper, the one thing that lessened considerably was the guilt. I didn't feel so guilty anymore. I felt it wasn't all my fault. Thank God, it's not all my fault. Because, you
